

CONSIDERATIONS FOR PRIVACY BREACH

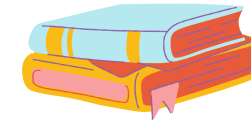

PRIVACY 101: LEGAL

Under FIPPA there is a legal requirement to notify affected people of privacy breaches if they are reasonably expected to result in significant harm.

PRIVACY 101: ETHICS

Under TCPS2 there is an ethical obligation to inform participants of privacy breaches, unless there is a clear reason not to inform the participant.

IS THIS BREACH RESEARCH RELATED?

Is the patient involved a research participant? Is this incident related to research activities?

ANALYZE THE SITUATION

As a study team, determine if there is any reason not to inform the participant, or reasons for delay (i.e. special circumstances: in-patient status, current distress)

INFORM THE PARTICIPANT

Unless justifiable, the ethical approach is to inform the participant of the privacy breach whenever possible

SUBMIT TO REB AND NOTIFY PHSA PRIVACY OFFICE

Refer to RISE PAA Coversheet for required information. Include: who, what, when, where, how; ways to prevent; whether participant, and other departments were notified
